

Club Affiliations of Players at the Handball Euro 2024

A team-by-team look at player mobility – and how Germany's Bundesliga dominates the club landscape

Club affiliations vary greatly between teams. For instance, most German players compete in the Bundesliga, while only one Swedish player plays in Sweden. The Bundesliga is by far the most common destination abroad: 91 non-German players were under contract there. Only 3 of the 24 teams had no Bundesliga players.

